

THE JOURNEY

Music & Lyrics: S. MARSHAL

Here comes a sweet tear in your eye
A tear that means you have to say goodbye
Tomorrow you 'll fly away leaving all behind
Family and friends in your heart and mind

You feel so strange inside...suddenly feel like running and hide away
You know you can't turn back
You don't want to turn back
Let's celebrate tonight...

Everything will be alright
Let's celebrate through the night
So, dry your tears and sing
Tomorrow your Journey begins...

Everything will be alright
Let's celebrate through the night
A new tattoo on your skin
Your Journey begins...

We could never know what the future may hold
You 'll make some good friends 'cause you're made of gold
I can't promise you but I know for sure
How hard it is to find a soul that pure

Well, I can't deny...I'm often far too high...just take it easy
I'll take care of myself, why don't we take a deep breath,
Let's celebrate tonight...

Everything will be alright
Let's celebrate through the night
So, dry your tears and sing
Tomorrow your Journey begins...

Everything will be alright
Let's celebrate through the night
A new tattoo on your skin
Your Journey begins...

Everything will be alright
Let's celebrate through the night
So, dry your tears and sing
Your Journey begins...

Everything will be alright
Let's celebrate through the night
A new tattoo on your skin
Your Journey begins...

Tomorrow your Journey begins
